DR. HUNTINGTON THE DEAN.

Venerable Professor Appointed by Columbian University.

Rev. Dr. Adoniram J. Huntington has been appointed dean of the Columbian University, to take the place of Dr. Andrew P. Montague, who leaves to accept the presidency of Furman University, Greenville, S. C., October 21. Friday next a meeting of the college faculty and students will be held in the post-graduate hall of Columbian University at 12:30 p.m. Resolutions of regret will be adopted appropriate to the departure of Dr. Montague from the university and from the city.
Dr. Huntington is professor of Greek at the university and has been here since 1842, with the exception of two years at Brown University. He took the degree of A. B. in 1845, and in 1848 received the degree of D. D. at Brown University, which was taken "summa cum laude." He is nearly seventy-five years of age, but in twenty years has not missed a class.
Dr. Montague was an enthusiastic reception at his new home.

Jailed for Insobordination.

Judge Cox yesterday afternoon heard the complaint of Captain Geo. H. Snider of the schooner Young Brothers, lying at a Georgetown wharf, of insobordination presented against four of his seamen, William Smith, Edward V. Brooks, Peter H. Petersen and William Huellin. The men denied the charge of insobordination.
The case was argued by the court sentencing Smith to fifteen days and the others each to ten days imprisonment in jail.

UNITED HEBREW CHARITIES.

Annual Meeting of the Association and Election of Officers.

Address by President Blout, Reviewing the Work of Past Year—Some Suggestions Made.
The annual meeting of the United Hebrew Charities took place last evening at Con-Hall, corner of 6th and E streets northwest. The attendance was large and much interest was manifested.
The retiring officers were all re-elected, as follows: President, I. L. Blout; vice president, Solomon Lewis; treasurer, A. D. Prince; financial secretary, William Hahn; recording secretary, Jacob Strasburger. These gentlemen were constituted the board of directors and authorized to call to their aid as many of the members of the society as they deemed advisable to carry out the purposes of the organization.
The principal interest of the meeting was centered in the annual report of President Blout.
Mr. Blout's paper was in part as follows: "The conditions of our poor since our last report have undergone but little, if any, change. The methods, manner and system mapped out and followed in the past remain unchanged, excepting a few improvements in the system of our management. Many who in the past were forced to seek assistance are today thriving, relying on their own exertions and resources, and are comfortable and contented. None have been ignored, and all have been helped. "The number of applicants during the past twelve months was 658, of which 470 were relieved as follows: With food, 50; with provisions, 116; with wearing apparel, 34; with transportation, 118; with license, rent, merchandise, furniture, nourishment, physician's fees, medicine, dental and other expenditures, etc., 122—resulting in the disbursement of $2,063.80.
The amount of contributions from all sources of same period was $2,093.79, leaving a balance, adding balance on hand October 1, 1896 (excluding the reserve fund of $350), in hands of the treasurer of $127.88.
Applicants Increase.
There has been an increase in applications for manual labor. The continued unemployment has caused many laborers and mechanics to seek work out of employment. Washington being a manufacturing non-commercial city, the difficulty of obtaining employment for the idle is apparent. Men eager and willing to earn a livelihood by the labor of their own hands almost daily apply for work of any kind.
"The management, by the most diligent endeavors, has therefore met with but scant success in this section, and to prevent actual starvation has been obliged to furnish the necessities of life until arranged otherwise. We are still adhering to our customary method of relieving the hungry by means of self-support for the dependent. The constant feeding of the hungry poor has a tendency to keep them poor. Some charity agencies with which we are in contact, and by supplying food their duty is done, when in reality it is but duty just commenced. It is a fact undeniable that the more we do for the poor, the more we pamperize them; the continued stimulating increases the demand for the dependent. We must furnish them with nourishment, which will only satisfy their physical wants, but which will invigorate their mental, moral and social nature, and thus supply the hungry with the necessities of life, and thus we will first and main duty, but would deem it morally wrong, detrimental to both the body and the soul, to do so without this practice. They must be shown the way of becoming self-sustaining, self-reliant, self-respecting. The system of helping those who are contented with idleness in most instances its desired effect, and thus the seed planted in the fertile soil of philanthropy has yielded rich and nourishing harvest of self-support and independence."

Council of Jewish Women.

"Social, religious, moral and intellectual achievements are tenets relative and characteristic to charitable work. These functions, I regret to state, owing to insufficient means, were hindered from accomplishing, and reluctantly compelled to neglect. The visible want of the Jewish people has seemingly been supplied by an organ, composed of members for ages renowned in philanthropic and charitable channels.
"Daughters in Israel," descendants of mothers and heroes and soldiers, who, emerging from behind the clouds of indifference, are awakening; they have risen to the need of the hour. Banded together, they are striving for the elevation of mankind in general and Judaism in particular. The "Council of Jewish Women" is a body of noble and noble women, and greet you with their good intentions. We are with you in heart and in spirit. Alas! have the noble women of our race, so lofty and magnanimous, as the field of your operations is extensive, been felt and deservedly acknowledged. Success in the noble work before you is our wish and ardent desire. But justice to whom justice is due."
Wives Deserted.
"The deserted wife question has caused the board no little concern. The number of cases marked 'temporary absence' has increased, and by no means is the decline of the husband relying on the sympathy and protection of the charities. The abandoning of their families to the care of others by men who ignore honor and obligations has become an abuse widespread and alarming. The board has decided to define the teachings of God and man.
"Our city, the capital of one of the greatest, most liberal nations on earth, the concentration of intellect and culture, is sadly lacking in measures to prevent these inhuman practices. Congress should heed the request made by Simon Wolf, while president of the board of children's guardians, to institute measures looking to their prevention and punishment. The board will continue to watch and guard individuals, heads of households, etc., notwithstanding our repeated warnings and requests to the contrary, still exists to some extent and we will continue to watch and guard, having already been aided by the association, continue their accustomed habit of house-to-house begging, and are thus encouraged in their vocation by some of our tender-hearted, over-charitable persons, who ignore the fact that often the applicant is an impostor."
Rules Suggested.
"We deem it advisable to recommend the following rules for the association: "1. Refuse aid to applicants, no matter of what nature or to what extent. "2. Discredit all stories and statements, such as having been refused or insufficiently aided by the association, and the like, and take our assurance that our best interests are served by the association, as listed at all times and in all cases, accompanied by care and discrimination, to the end that the applicants receive such attention as the nature and merits of their needs may justify. "3. Disperse your charity practically, not mechanically, and send them to us, and no one else. "4. Charity dispensed to and for the hungry is, indeed, charity well dispensed. But if, through humanity, be dispensed, then it becomes charity misused, misplaced."
The Late Henry King.
"It is with deep sorrow and regret that I refer to the loss of one of our members. Death has invaded our ranks. A faithful worker, after long and toilsome labor, passed to his reward when Henry King breathed his last. The voice which had so often resounded in our council is hushed. He has gone from among us, but his memory lives with us. May heaven grant him that reward due to one who had so nobly fulfilled the divine commandment—'Be charitable.'"
